Designs with a story

The décor in our interior tells the stories of our lives. Reflecting the memories we cherish, the pursuits we enjoy, our family history and all the things that interest or matter to us. With some pieces chosen for their tangible connection, others purely for their aesthetic appeal.

At Authentic Models, we combine the two through elegantly handcrafted furniture, objects and ornaments which capture the essence of an era or interest via meaningful and surprising design. Inspired by the adventurous spirit which led to many ingenious creations, our collections celebrate travel, exploration and endeavour. Treading in the footsteps of history while also exploring beyond the beaten track.

To complement the pieces which thoughtfully represent the past, we also create original new designs with a daring contemporary twist. Keeping time-honoured backstories alive in all kinds of ways, with character and quality that complements every personal style, to fit in with both modern and traditional settings.

Finally we would like to wish you a pleasant time exploring this Collection Book.

In crafting there are just unique creations

CRAFTSMANSHIP

While design and materials create the potential for the beauty of a piece of furniture or accessory, craftsmanship determines the final result. All our handcrafted products are made with attention to detail, which makes each and every piece unique. The craftsmen who work on our collection are professionals and understand their trade meticulously.

That's why we believe that in crafting there are no mistakes, just unique creations.

FURNITURE

‘Personalised travel’ was taken quite literally at a time when the rich and famous, travelling by luxury steamer and staying in grand hotels, even brought their favourite furniture along. Given how special these pieces were, with their gorgeous crafting and ingenious functionality, it’s not hard to appreciate why. Thanks to Authentic Models, you too can enjoy the charisma of high-end furniture from bygone times, through distinctive pieces which draw inspiration from glamorous eras. Complete with high quality finish, brass fittings and leather features that capture look & feel of the originals they’re based on.

Stateroom Bar

Fun and functionality coalescing into an impressive piece of historic proportions. Wheel in the bar. Park and lock it somewhere close at hand! Made in the style of turn-of-the-century travel trunks. Solid brass hardware and bridle leather accoutrements complete a hand-built, two-part bar inside a large trunk set on sturdy wheels.

A multitude of drawers, two serving trays, racks for both horizontal and vertical bottles. Mirror and foldout work shelf. Taking out the shelf unit on the right frees up a removable game board. Iconic. Confidently evocative of the Belle Époque when a hunt required only a Martini or a whiskey sour at hand!

“Style matters!”

Hailing from the Belle Epoque, an era when armies of stewards and porters used to wheel trunks from the Wagons-Lits train to a waiting transatlantic steamer. Those were the days! Big enough for pur-sang bartending but small enough to fit into a chic studio. Built in canvas-covered wood with leather accents and bronze hardware. Varnished wood slats for protection.

Traveling through Provence, our picnic sojourn was to a medieval abbey not far away. We purchased cheeses, salamis, artisan bread, with aged Burgundy to wash it all down. Somehow we managed to stash our victuals in the narrow boot of our 30s Delahaye roadster, leaving just enough space for our beloved vintage serving table. Since this handily folds, it occupies the smallest spaces.

Trunk Tables

At the time of its invention, the Stateroom Trunk was a staple companion for wealthy Victorian travellers. Crafted from quality wood and adorned with sturdy brass fittings, it was much a work of art as a practical object. In today's world, it is an attractive focus piece which can be used for storage and, thanks to the addition of hand-turned legs, as a coffee table. For those who like to blend contemporary aesthetics with classic style...

“Let work be
your hobby.”

The captain's desk was usually tailor made to offer maximum comfort and space in a minimal floor area. Drawers to house the crew's papers, sealed sailing instructions, logbooks, charts, instruments and a pair of flintlock pistols. Brass corners to protect from damage when being moved around. Sturdy construction, made of cherry and maple and leather insert top.

Captain's Desk, Black / MF014
M. 169,90 x 74,90 x 78 cm, 66.90 x 29.50 x 30.70"

You want something solid. Lived in and comfortable. Warm and rich looking. Soft and easy to the touch as if waxed and polished by generations of housemaids. Drawers to hold documents and treasures. Brass campaign corners to survive damage during challenging moves across the country or even oceans. Our furniture is made to travel well.

Travel Desk 'Madras' / MF056
M. 120 x 55 x 78 cm, 21.90 x 47.40 x 30.90"

Travelers and seafarers of yore had to be resourceful in order to survive. Desks on board ships had to be cleared and stowed at a moment's notice. Things had to be multi-functional. In the case of our desk, the two supports could act as steps into the navigator's bunk, or to mount a camel, whichever came first. The desktop, complete with drawers and brass bound, could act to stop musket bullets when under fire. Faux leather top, hand rubbed wood, somewhat beat-up; proof of its many voyages and colorful history.

M. 140,50 x 70 x 78 cm, 55.30 x 27.60 x 30.70"

Admirers of the travel trunks used by wealthy travelers will appreciate this administration-related take, in which we've created a 'pack-and go' desk with the same design features.

In homage to the Victorian travellers who went to great lengths to attend to their correspondence while on the move, we've created this small fold-away desk. A charming piece that's handy in the home as it's small enough to fit almost anywhere and easy to pack up and store when not in use.

High ranking officials have a duty to prepare reports from wherever they happen to be in the world. Famous yachtsmen sailing from the USA were surprised at the lack of locker rooms, showers and docks when visiting the Royal Yacht Clubhouse at Cowes, England. # Gigs

Gigs were invaluable when in port or moored outside. Referred to as rowboats by land-bound folk, a gig was easy to lower overboard, needed minimum crew, and was quick to dispatch. When stowed, it nested in the long boat or pilot boat secured in the center of the main deck. Our lapstrake (overlapping strips of wood) gigs are not seaworthy, but they most certainly look like it! Clinker build, they add flair and atmosphere to any room, and display shelves to turn them into fun cabinets and bookcases.

Endless Regency Collection

The original Handbook for Travelers in India, Burma and Ceylon, carries extensive instructions for the minimum amount of items needed for an extensive voyage in the tropics. Boxes, trunks and chests were packed and hauled on exploration, hunting, or military expeditions that traversed mountains and deserts.

All this had to be packed and unpacked every single day. The design and manufacture of furniture fitting all these conditions and ways of travel was both an art and a science. In the rich tradition of traditional furniture makers who supplied furniture to all corners of the globe, Authentic Models has developed an Endless Regency Collection that can be combined with different inserts and create endless possibilities to mix and match.

They can section off one part of a room, as both front and back are finished. Always practical, decorative and never boring. Exquisitely finished, made from solid mahogany and maple finished in medium honey and black, these brass bound units will survive centuries and fill both grown-up and kid's spaces in any way needed.

Travel Trunks

Last era travel trunks are the inspiration behind these freestanding shelf units we've created for books and other objects. A perfect complement to our many travel-related items. Available as a modular set or as individual pieces.

Our Endless Regency Insert boxes are definitely multi-functional. Collectors want a travel trunk that stores and appeals in its own right. Housekeepers want space and functionality. Enjoy its many drawers and fun pull-out shelves. Solid, heavy, bronze campaign pulls. Elegant and practical.

Campaign Chair

Originally designed by London Army & Navy purveyors for Imperial Army officers on the move. Legs and frame rolled up inside the canvas seat or leather. Then in the 1920's taken by European settlers of the Argentina pampas, it became the gaucho's stock fo trade. Aged ones now populate living rooms of haciendas in Argentina and Uruguay. Designed to function on uneven footing, their flexibility surprises.

The P-51 Mustang was the first US built fighter in action after the fall of France, success-fully engaging every air-born opponent. Fast, powerful, and manoeuvrable, with 75-gallon tanks under each wing, its ability to fly 6-hour missions was un-heard of at the time.

Sleek and powerful, Connie set a number of speed and distance records, despite experiencing frequent engine problems which led to them being jokingly called the most reliable three engine aircraft. The plane's elegant appearance was the result of no two bulkheads being the same shape. A design which has long since been superseded by cheaper, more pressure-change-resistant tube constructions.

The Sopwith was the mainstay fighter-plane of the British and USA air forces in the early 1900s. It ruled the skies for a number of years.

A lightweight frame is assembled and silk fabric is stretched across, similar to the original construction in the early 1900s.

Most definitely it's the size. It's BIG. Built with an interesting array of materials. Lightweight frame stretched with fabric. Down to the smallest detail a replica of the original, which was actually only 5.7m long (less than 19 ft.) to begin with. Built by the thousands during the Great War, in many colors and configurations. Our model fits large spaces as well as large personalities (of which there is no shortage in this world!). Pair it with propellers, old maps, a pilot's desk.

"Most people only dream of what pilots have seen"

As WWI progressed, every opportunity to gain advantage had to be taken. Fighter plane engine capacity was increasing. But that was worthless unless propellers were also modified to turn that extra power into more speed. While the classic 2-blade propeller was known to be the most efficient design, lengthening the blades to utilize the increased power would result in them touching the ground during take-off and landing. One solution was the introduction of the four-blade propeller.

Exploration, embarking on new lives, enjoying leisure trips and sporting endeavour... are just some of the many reasons people have taken to the water over the centuries. For every past-time and purpose, numerous different vessels have been designed to ride the waves, sail the waterways and defeat the competition. Authentic Models celebrates adventure, luxurious travel and challenge of waterborne pursuits through accurate, high-quality models of sailing ships, steamers, runabouts and decorative oars. Staying true to history, while also offering original decorative twists.

America was a 19th-century racing yacht and first winner of the America's Cup international sailing trophy. On August 22, 1851, America won the Royal Yacht Squadron's 53-mile (85 km) regatta around the Isle of Wight by 18 minutes. The Squadron's "One Hundred Sovereign Cup" or "£100 Cup", sometimes mistakenly known in America as the "One Hundred Guinea Cup," was later renamed after the original winning yacht.

She was built for Thomas Sopwith who used his aviation design expertise to ensure the yacht was the most advanced of its day with a steel hull and mast. She was launched in 1934 and won many races in her first season including against the J's Velsheda and Shamrock V. She failed in her America's Cup challenge against the American defender Rainbow but came closer to lifting the cup than any other until Australia II succeeded in 1983.

USS Constellation was a nominally rated 38-gun wooden-hulled, three-masted frigate of the United States Navy. She was built under the direction of David Stodder at The Joseph and Samuel Sterett shipyard on Harris Creek in Baltimore's Fell's Point maritime community, and she was launched on 7 September 1797. She was one of the original six frigates whose construction the Naval Act of 1794 had authorized. The name "Constellation" was among ten names submitted to President George Washington by Secretary of War Timothy Pickering in March of 1795 for the frigates that were to be constructed. The Flag Act of 1777 speaks of how the stars in the flag are "representing a new constellation".

CARS

Motoring started to really find its feet in the 1930s when engineering and competitive spirit came together in the form of racing cars. While careering round a track was only for the very bravest of men, mere mortals could get a safer slice of the action by racing spindizzies – miniature tether cars modelled equal in size on racing cars which moved at nearly 70 miles per hour. Authentic Models salutes those heady early days of motorsport with wonderfully detailed models of the cars and spindizzies which so captured the hearts of their fans.

Spindizzies

Technically skilled enthusiasts of the 1930s loved to race the legendary B.B. Korn cars around the club tracks. Called tether cars or spindizzies, they reached incredible speeds, and inspired thousands to improve and invent. The founder of the B.B. Korn Manufacturing Company, Barney Korn, produced several tether car models that now, as vintage antiques, achieve astounding sums at auction.

Its original makers were the famous Dooling Brothers, who manufactured around 1000 units at the time. They were offered to aficionados of the famous Dooling spin-dizzies, miniature motorized racecars that reached dizzying speeds. They were closely modeled on the famous Mercedes Silver Arrows of the early 1930s. Originals are now rare and highly prized by collectors. Molded with the same exacting detail as its original, our racer is hand-cast in airplane aluminum. Hand polished and buffed to a high shine, it features a detailed dashboard, faux leather seat, steering wheel and brake. In keeping with its original model-toy character, the front wheels are not linked to the steering wheel. The wheel hubs and rubber tires are made with the same exact detail as the original. Enjoy a truly unique piece of Grand Prix history. This shiny, sleek desktop racer represents both the romance and the dramatic beauty of the most famous Grand Prix racers ever!

The 1930s saw the rise of hand built model racecars, known as spindizzies or tether cars. Miniature racecars built by hobbyists zoomed around banked wooden tracks at speeds approaching 70 miles per hour. Resembling the full-size racers of their day, several spindizzies competed at once, tethered by cables to a central pole. Powered by model airplane engines, spindizzies raced against the clock. Incredibly detailed and aerodynamic, these miniature racecars were beyond toys; they were pieces of art representative of the best pioneering technology of the era. Constructed using original blueprints, our Bantam Midget model resembles the original down to the smallest detail. One look and you'll be ready to join the competition.

In 1934, the international motor sport governing body specified a maximum weight for Grand Prix racing cars of 750 kg, excluding tyres and fuel. The Germans decided to reduce weight by removing the lead-based paint which denoted its cars' traditional white livery, exposing distinctive shining aluminium. Victory by one of these lead to the nickname Silver Arrow. Their successors, which were built on the same chassis, continued to race successfully at the Indy 500 after the war.

A view on the Solar System

Gazing in the night sky we wonder about the size and scope of the universe. Within that magnitude our solar system seems infinite and overwhelming. It's easier to understand native creation myths, Newtonian and Galilean theories, and great historical discoveries when viewing the solar system on a smaller, more comprehensible human scale. Reduced to both scientific and decorative models of our planetary system, revolving around the sun and not the earth as early scientists believed.

Different style globes in colors, hues and specifications make a fascinating and elegant object. Sure to arouse interest in planets and their clockwork movements in a curious child's mind.

An interesting mix of early science and Greek mythology. One of the legendary Titans battling Zeus was defeated and decreed to carry the weight of the world on his mighty shoulders. Forever... # Rocking Horse

The classic rocking horse: no upper class children's playroom was without one. Some were mounted on oval wood rockers, others on a 'safety' stand, where steel swings allowed for greater movement on a stationary base. Our iconic rocking horse is a full-sized reproduction of originals dating back to the 19th C. Hand carved in top quality mahogany. Hand made saddle and tack of real bridle leather.

The expert skills of wood carvers, cabinetmakers, and saddlers are evident. Hand finished in a warm and glowing French-style varnish, slightly distressed to make it look somewhat aged. A timeless treasure and a dream-toy for both boys and girls. Imagine its value in 50 years...

Cocktail Shakers

Decorative designs that differed from the classic shaker shape were in fashion, to make them less easily recognized by the police. All this was during the 1920s when the Congress voted in the Prohibition and the US went 'dry'. Illegal bars called speakeasies came in many varieties. To cover up the rough taste of the poor quality alcohol which remained available, bartenders created cocktails with plenty of juices and other sweeteners. All shakers are made of heavily silver-plated brass.

Calculate the day of the week for any given future date, within a 40-year or 50-year span. To use, simply rotate dial until the selected year lines up with the selected month. Collectable because of their combined historical and practical value. Ship's hourglasses were calibrated to the half hours of the ship's watch. To appreciate the important symbolism of the hourglass, Renaissance artists painted still lifes which were also called Vanitas, filled with symbolism and morals. They very often depict hourglasses.

A clock is a device used to measure, keep, and indicate time. The clock is one of the oldest human inventions, meeting the need to measure intervals of time shorter than the natural units: the day, the lunar month, and the year. Devices operating on several physical processes have been used over the millennia.

With this clock based on the icon clock in Waterloo station both ways of displaying time have been captured.

The 24-hour clock, popularly referred to in the United States and some other countries as military time and the 12-hour time convention which is common in several English-speaking nations and former British colonies, as well as a few other countries.

Eye of Time

Victorian engineers loved to tinker with design, and make things look interesting and especially larger than life. A pocket watch transformed into a desk watch, convex optical glass magnifiers showing an enlarged dial and hands. Not exactly a travel watch this, more desk bound, an object that delights with its translation of form. Turning into a gem under soft lamp light, it doesn't easily get lost while always telling time. Combine various time zones to function as a richly nostalgic, gracious world time clock.

My earliest glass was a utilitarian Boy Scout one of sturdy brass. I studied insects and the skin of my hand. Whether you are looking for your enemy during battle, to have a gaze at the night sky to find that one special star or just to look at your favorite bird during your camping trip, binoculars give users a 3D image, unlike a telescope.

Binoculars or field glasses are two telescopes mounted side-by-side and aligned to point in the same direction, allowing the viewer to use both eyes when viewing distant objects. Most are sized to be held using both hands, although sizes vary widely from opera glasses to large pedestal mounted military models.
